Vinti Dadheech

Hello, myself Vinti Dadheech a Computer Science student at SRM Institute of Science and Technology. I'm a front end web development enthusiast. I have experience working as part of a team as well as individually. I've good communication skills which is a key strength in order to deliver the best results. I am adept at handling multiple tasks on a daily basis competently and at working well under pressure. I try to radiate a positive energy so that people feel comfortable around me. I'm a learner who's trying to grow, develop and improve my skills as a coder. I might be unsure about a lot of things but I can assure that I'm a hardworking and ambitious individual, who's open to learn and accept new things.
